NOMINEES FOR STATE ASSEMBLY. The nominations for members of Assembly have re-ived the special attention of the greg shop cabals believe, without a single exception, has not at some il-quer store, and there made its nominations. Even the republicans, who talk so much about the Kaine law, adopted the same plan, and announced their nominee in some drinking establishment. Neither of the sevemay parties has completed its Assembly ticket, there being some isolated wards where all the bargains are not sensitived. As many of the aspirants are only on the field to be bought off, either with some other office or else the hard cash, it frequently proves a hard task for a person to clear the way so that he can obtain the nomination of his cases the way so that he can obtain the normalization of the party, or rather of a elique, which all are anxious to have us believe comes from the people, when in reality, in time cases ont of every ten, the normalizations that have been made for the Legislature in this city have been the result of a bargain and safe, obtained through a regular mathematical calculation, as dishonest a mode as many of the pothouse citiques are departed. In the face of these facts they have already commenced the ery of party nominations, and saking the roters to support the regular party tecket.

acts they have already commenced the cry of party nominations, and saking the voters to support the regular party sicket.

As it is with the city, county and Congressional lickets, so it will be with the assembly nominations; many of them, through the buying and selling of the trading politiciars, will be dropped, and the public in formed that this and that district have united upon one and date, when in reality the only union is the agreement between the leaders of each pack of trading philosophers, who have sammed party names to give themselves influence, to divide the apolts between them. There are, to be sure, some knoorable exceptions to this rule, but the exceptions are principally in those districts where, like the Sixth and Fifteenth districts, all parties where, like the Sixth and Fifteenth districts, all parties where, like the Sixth and Fifteenth districts and positions. Geo. W. Varian, in the Fifteenth, and Samuel T. Webster of the district both regulation of the exceptions to be bought of, but at once brought out those persons who have proven true to their tradts in all poblic positions. Geo. W. Varian, in the Fifteenth, and Samuel T. Webster of the districts in the last Legislature, voted against the peculating lobey from the commencement to the end of the session, and all parties opposed to the republicans that have nominated by some of the chiques and factions, and even determined to have another opportunity to taste of the rich steaks on Thurlow Weed's size. Both republicans and demoncratic factions have been guitty of attempting to force these politicophers upon the people whom they have once of signand.

THE UNION MASS MEETING.

PREFARATIONS THAT ARE BEING MADE FOR THE OCCASION.

The Committee of Arrangements are progressing rapidly with the proparations for the grand Union Mass Meeting at the Cooper Institute to morrow night. A por-tion of them can be daily found at their beadquarters 761 Broadway, where their programme is gradually being-developed. They are not only preparing for a grand de monstration on the incide of the building, but special pains will be taken to organize the on side stands, four in number, where matters will proceed as though each was pains will be taken to organize the on side stands, four in number, where matters will proceed as though each was the only stand erected.

Stand No. 1 will be at the disposal of the ashlanders. The chairman will probably be A. M. Bininger, who will be escorted from his residence by that society. Hiram Ketchum is to deliver the opening speech at this stand. Judge Connolly, it is said, will preside at the second stand, with the flag of Erin in the background. This will be the stand from which the Irish speakers will pour forth their eloquence in behalf of their adopted country. The entertainment to the Irish will commence with a speech from John W. McMahoo, Ero.

The Germans will occupy stand No. 4, and stand No. 3 will be presided over by Col. Vesburg, of the Seventy-first regument. Han John Cochrane has been selected to lead off at stand No. 3, to be followed by several other prominent speakers. A large number of Union clabs from Brocklyn are to unite in the demonstration.

The German democracy are making extensive preparations for this occasion. Their former heatility to a union of all the conservative elements has cased, as with the renewed energy of the democracy their hatred against bisck republicanism has increased. On the 16 h of this month they intend to have a grand moss meeting at the Cooper Institute, when they mean to give a good account of themselves.

THE GRAND PARADE OF THE MASSES.

MEETING OF THE PRESIDENTS OF THE DEMOCRATIC AND UNION CLUES.

A meeting of the presidents of the democratic and Union clubs, to make further arrangements for the grand parade, was held last evening at their new headquarters, No. 514 Broadway, United States Marshal Ryn ders in the chair; Mesars. Clackber and Walker, secre-

A great many accessions were made to the roll.

The Charman stated that, since the first meeting of the League," a great deal of enthusiam seemed to pervade all classes of the people, and a deputation of carmen had waited upon him, tendering the use of their horses, and carts, and trucks, assuring him that from four to five hundred would turn out in the parade.

Mr. E. H. Murch, a Philadelphian, stated that he was an officer of the Philadelphia Minute Men of '56; that be had received a letter from his association, stating that they desired an invitation to take part in the grand demonetration, and that about 500 men would be in the ranks.

The appoundment was received with creat applause The CHAIRMAN said that the Minute Men would be received with all due courtesy, and they would be happy to receive them.

Major Hall, chairman of the committee to propose a day for the celebration, reported that the committee reommend Tuesday, the 23d last, which was unanimously adopted. A motion that the Grant Marshal and his aids, whom he shall select, be empowered to make all arrangements he shall select, be empowered to make all arrangements as regards the route of procession, the hour of mustering, &c., was also adopted.

The Charman wired upon the delegates of this meeting to turn out on Monday next, and participate in the grand ratification meeting to be held at the tooper Institute. He also stated that a great many communications had been received by him, inquiring whether this proposed torchlight procession was intended for any particular section of the democracy. He would take this opportunity to remark that this demonstration is to be composed of all parties opposed to black republicanism, whether they be longlas men, fireckinridge men, or Bell and Everett men.

whother they be freegree and, and Everett men.
Captain Toxam offered the following resolution, which was adopted :—
Besolved. That we who are now united in one common came, to buttle against the actionalism of the day, if we love our country we are willing to serve it, "the Union Velet," "our country right or wrong," "our country will be a wrong," Cately our county raised as to the order of proceedings in relation to those clubs taking the right of line, exaleerman Thos. McSrmos suggested that the various clubs of each ward meet at some central point in the ward and consolidate their forces.

These remarks were received with marked favor. Ex Alderman Wilson suggested that the different ward clubs meet at some central point and draw lots for the right of line in the procession. The subject, however, was laid over until the next meeting.

Mr. Wir. C. Govern was here introduced and made some pertinent remarks regarding the canvass.

On motion the meeting adjourned until the call of the Chair.

The Charman stated that the call would be advertised in the Hanath, News, Express and Stants Zeitung.

Tunn District .- An adjourned meeting of the Third district Bell and Everett Convention was held last night at St. John's Hotel, corner of Hudson and Varick streets. B. T. Quigg occupied the chair.

A resolution was adopted to receive the Democratic Conference Committee, and a special committee appointed to invite them in. The Conference Committee urged od to invite them in. The Conference Committee urged the name of John C. Mather as a candidate pledged to support the Union McKet, and as the only one able to unite the conservative elements of the district. Several delegates strongy objected to the wishes of the Conference Committee, and urged the nomination of an independent, as the only means of maintaining the identity of their party and of preventing a collision with either wing of the democracy.

The following are all the names we could obtain.—Dick Lawis and his brother, of Waverley; Mr. O. L. Battle, and a large family of negro nervants—men, women and children. This gratheman came from Georgis, and was on his way to his plantation in Wharton county. Mr. Cattlette, first clerk; Mr. Carley, second engineer; Mr. M. White, pilet; serven cabin boys, ad colored; Bob, direman, belonging to Mr. Crawford; Mr. Melenkin, eahin passengers, fairwand Mrs. Hurley, cabin passengers, Galveston; Mr. Fisher, of Housten; Geo. Pathlo, third clerk.

The Galvesten News furnishes to us the following particulars of this fearful disaster, brought down by the stemmers Mary Hill and Neptune, both of which were instrumental in relieving the aufferers:—On the upper deck of the Hill sat a quiet looking gentleman, Mr. Gallway, of theorgia, with his foot bandaged up in white litem. He seemed to take it cainly and philetephically. His friends precently removed him to more comfortable quarters.

The next person we met on this part of the boat was leaving it as fast as possible, his face and other varie of his body and limbs deplaying erielences of the elicets of hot steam. He was, we were told, Mr. Valentine Fitzpatrick, barker per of the Bayou Guy, occupying the upper berth of the stateroom in which his companion was, Mr. T. E. Westrepe, the well known sheward of the boat.

Everybody in Texas that ever travelled on the boats from Galveston to Houston, Knew poor Tom Westrope, and the general and sincere expression of regret, when he was stated to be among the killed by this accident, showed how well he merited his poonlarity. He was in his berth at the time of the explosion, and felt through into the hold with the crumbling decks. Some of the freight had to be taken out to get him upon deck, and he was then placed on the barge and sincer expression to keep language.

It has poon

everbeard and was drowzed. None of his sugroes were neuron.

Mr. Calloway, we fearn, is a large planter near Washington, Georgia. He came over with Mearn, Sattle and Irwin, with a view to settling in Texas.

We learn that Captain Ball died hat night. The Galmeston Cievlian of the 19th mys.

Captain J. E. Haviliand, one of the United States inspectors of steamers, has revisited the steamer Bayou City, for the purpose of investigating the cause of the expication of the bollers. He found an increastion of salt, nearly a fourth of an inch thick, on the under interior surface of the bollers, and has no doubt the expication was produced by it. The fracture occurred in the under side, putting out the firet, and the damage to the upper portion of the boat, and passengers in it, was produced by the reaction of the steam. Captain Haviland has not yet prepared a report of the case, but will do so in a day or two. The bollers had been cleaned out at the usual time, but had been kept heated during the day, as it was necessary to were the local from place to chase in the site in fearure to were the local from place to chase in taking in fracture of the case in the local from place to chase in taking in fracture. been kept heated during the day, as it was necessary to move the boat from place to place in taking in freight here.

Brooklyn City News. ROBERTS AND SUSPECTED MURDER -On Friday after-moon John O'Brien and Patrick Costello, the brother of O'Brien's wife, attended the funeral of a child of the first named individual. On their return from the funeral, at about half past six o'clock, the two men and the weman quarelled over a jug of liquor, which, it is supposed, had been introduced for the purpose of drowning grief. Something like a free light council, in which Mrs. O'Brien was so severely beaten that she died about eight o'clock. was severely beaten that she died about eight o'clock. The parties lived is Columbia street, near Hamilton avenue, where the afray took place. The locality, which is covered all over with shantles, is better known as Tinkerville. An inquest was held on the body, and the pary, on view, found no marks of violence, but the circumstances warranted the ordering of a post mortem examination, which slicited the fact that the appearance of the liver was sufficient to justify the suspiction of a violent death, contradicting the previous idea that the woman had died of intemperance and excisement. The inquest was adjourned to meet at to o'clock this morning.

Bruciase Aragerro - Some three weeks ago an entrance was effected into the boot and shoe store of Mr. C. H. Miller, Whitestone, which they robbed of between two and three hundred dollars worth of goods. After-wards they broke into the store of Mr. H. Rowland, of Brushville. That gentleman being aroused by the noise Brushville. That gentleman being aroused by the noise of the burglars, went after them with a gun, which he fired after them, wounding two of the gang but they entered a wagon and frove away. It seems, however, that one of the burglars had vailed Mr. Bowland's store, of which he made a close examination. But white the villian was examining the store. Mr. Bowland was examining bim, and, not tiking his appearance, noted him down in the tablet of his memory. From the description furnished by Mr. Rowland the describes were able to recognize a noterious burglar, in the person of a man name! Vermillia, living in Larimore street, Williamsburg. He was accordingly arrested in his house, on Friday which by detectives Raynor, Van Wagner and Folk. Joseph Hart and lavid Miller, his association, were subsequently arrested in Cook, near Smith street. They were recognized in the office for Imspector Folk, as parties to the burglary. Miller was badly wounded. They were all sent to Jamal's for examination. Milier was badly wounded. They were all sent to Jamalia for examination.

Romers on a Print Boar —On Friday night, as a man named Francis Grumm was crossing the Greenpoint ferry, he was attacked by two men named John Formas and William Edwards, who robbed him of $57. They were arrested by officer Reid, of the Seventh precion, when the money was found on them. They were brought be-fore Justice Brennan, New York, yesterlay morning, but as the complainant did not appear against them, they were discharged.
